b. As a training/retraining facility at which on-the-job

During 1961 [REDACTED] went through a period of expansion necessitated by an increase in world-wide requirements and an increase in intelligence support to Task Force W Headquarters and JMWAVE operations. The expansion affected the strengths of all three categories of personnel based at [REDACTED] i. e., cadre personnel who act as instructors and who are available for overseas PCS assignments, members of the "flying squad" who, although based at [REDACTED] spend a large part of their careers overseas on TDY assignments, and personnel who are training for overseas PCS assignments. Additionally, the air of permanency which had existed to a certain extent in the case of the cadre personnel disappeared because of the need to assign some of our more competent personnel to expanding overseas stations. The assignability of all three categories of personnel jelled into one standard which meant that even the so-called permanent personnel began to live a day-to-day existence. The expansion continues as does the unsettled conditions under which the personnel live.

SUBJECT: Allowances and Emoluments for Personnel Assigned to [REDACTED]

3. Reference memorandum authorized certain allowances and emoluments to personnel at JMWAVE, [REDACTED]. The request for housing support based on the premise that personnel assigned to those facilities were considered on temporary assignments and therefore, would have additional expenses over and above those incurred by personnel who knew they would be stationed for a regular tour of duty. This reasoning was predicated on a rapidly changing [REDACTED] situation. It now appears that the personnel assigned [REDACTED] assume the same status as the other Agency personnel supporting the [REDACTED] operation. It is therefore believed that the conditions under which JMWAVE and [REDACTED] were assigned allowances and emoluments is equally applicable to [REDACTED] personnel who are participants supporting JMWAVE operations.

4. In view of the above, it is requested that personnel at [REDACTED] be given the same allowances and emoluments as was approved for JMWAVE and [REDACTED] personnel in reference memorandum.

[REDACTED] 25X1A9a
Director of Communications

The recommendation in paragraph 4 is approved.

The terminal date of this program is 31 May 1964.
Review of the JMWAVE operational program and personnel situation will be conducted in January 1964 to consider a request by the Chief, [REDACTED] to extend the housing program until the spring of 1965.
